VIP Protect is an established company that supplies elite VIP Protection services for high risk and high profile clients in Southern Africa and beyond.

Every operative involved in our VIP Protection unit from the bodyguards to our security drivers and chauffeurs are highly trained and skilled professionals and are on a continuous drive to improve and update their current skills to ensure that they are the most qualified and elite group of professionals in the industry. Every operative is registered with PSIRA with a minimum of a C-grading to comply with current legislation.

VIP Protect has only makes use of trained and qualified operatives that are registered with PSIRA (Security regulatory Board in South Africa).

Our philosophy encompasses covert protection. We do not believe that a bodyguard has to be this huge bouncer type, that struts around beating up people. The huge 6 foot, 150 Kg type of the past has no place in the low-key, high-tech, field of modern security and personal protection. Today, a bodyguard or protective detail should be not only skilled in all aspects of threat management and close protection, but must be able to move discreetly within the personal and professional lives of their clients. They have to be discreet.

To maintain the high levels of professionalism of our operatives; we will under NO circumstances hire off duty policemen nor anyone involved in the civil service: As it is

1. Against the law to hire off duty civil servants in South Africa.
2. All Operatives are registered with the relevant Security Regulatory Bodies, and carry their ID's.
3. We believe in maintaining high levels of moral integrity.

The CPO is primarily responsible for the safety of the client, while the other operatives are utilised in a support role.

Although this in no way implies that our operatives wont get involved it is just that the clients safety comes first. All our operatives have licensed 9mmP semi automatics amongst a range of other non offensive weapons, including being highly skilled in one form or other of martial art.

Our operatives have worked together on numerous assignments therefore they know how each operative functions and work well together, presenting a coherent and sophisticated team that is difficult to penetrate and crack.

As we prefer working in teams we are now able to offer the maximum level of protection available to ensure that the client has total peace of mind, knowing full well that all his security needs are taken care of.
